

Find Your Path Forward with Community Alliance

Support You Need to Reenter Your Community

Community Alliance is here to help you find your path forward with our community reentry services. Since 1981, Community Alliance has made recovery possible through integrated healthcare services that address mental health, physical health, and social support needs. Our VLS (Vocational Life Skills) Reentry Program can help you successfully transition back into your community. It is our mission to help you set positive goals and direction for your life.

What We Offer

While you're trying to rebuild your new life, a new job, and housing, you'll need support. That's what we do! Our Community Alliance team will help you as you deal with any mental health issues and find purpose in your new life.

We provide a full circle of support to address some of the essentials you may need, including:

- Help to access driver's license, birth certificate, or other identification
- Getting disability, Medicaid, or other benefits reinstated
- Transportation assistance
- Securing transitional or permanent housing
- Employment workshops to teach interview skills and seek job opportunities in the community
- Taking advantage of community resources
- Support as you reconnect with your family and community
- Parenting classes
- Mental health support for you and your loved ones

Community Alliance will help you navigate our offerings and answer any questions. We will guide you through the whole process of addressing your health, and we will continue to support you as you accomplish your goals.

We know healthcare can be intimidating. We're here to help with that, too. At Community Alliance, you'll find services including:

- Mental health and counseling services
- Primary care, including an on-site pharmacy
- Daytime programming
- Peer support
- A crisis warm-line you can call with any urgent questions
- Substance use support groups

Our team can speak with you before your release and work directly with social work staff on your reentry plan. To learn more about Community Alliance, ask your social worker or call 402-341-5128.
